

DENTAL CARE FOR YOUR PET

Dental care is an essential part of your pet's overall health and well-being. Just like humans, pets can suffer from dental diseases that may lead to discomfort, infections, and other serious health concerns. Regular dental care, both at home and at the veterinary clinic, helps keep your pet's teeth and gums healthy, prevents plaque buildup, and can significantly improve

REGULAR TEETH BRUSHING

- Brushing your pet's teeth at home is key to preventing plaque and tartar buildup. DAILY teeth brushing with a enzymatic pet-safe toothpaste can help keep their mouth healthy, breath fresh, while reducing the risk of dental disease for your pet.
- We recommend using an enzymatic toothpaste like CET, specifically formulated for dogs and cats, to effectively reduce plaque, freshen breath, and maintain a clean mouth. Aim to brush your pet's teeth several times a week to keep their dental hygiene in top shape.

DENTAL TREATS

- Dental chews & treats are a simple way to add support to your pet's dental hygiene.
- Along with daily brushing, dental chews can help break down plaque by gently scraping it off the teeth as your pet chews.

NOLVADENT

- Another product our doctors recommend is Nolvadent, an easy-to-use oral spray that supports cleaner teeth and healthier gums.
- Nolvadent is an antiseptic oral spray designed to support your pet's dental health by reducing plaque and bacteria that can lead to gum disease.

DENTAL WIPES

- Dental wipes offer a quick and effective way to support your pet's oral health.
- These wipes can help plaque & bacteria, freshen breath, & are especially useful for pets who resist brushing.
- Dental wipes can complement both at-home brushing and routine veterinary cleanings.

THE MORE YOU DO AT HOME, THE LESS WE HAVE TO DO HERE!

At-home dental care can help extend the time between professional cleanings, though your pet may still need regular dental visits, as each pet's needs are unique.

LOOK FOR THE OFFICIAL SEAL!

- When choosing dental products like treats or toothpaste for your pet, look for the Veterinary Oral Health Council (VOHC) Seal.
- This seal ensures the product has been tested and proven effective at reducing plaque and tartar buildup.
